

Kamal Mahawar is a consultant general and bariatric surgeon at South Tyneside and Sunderland NHS Trust and a Visiting Professor at University of Sunderland in the North East of England. He sits on the council of Association of Surgeons of Great Britain and Ireland and is its Associate Director of Scientific Programme. Mr. Mahawar takes a keen in patient safety and chairs the patient safety committee of British Obesity and Metabolic Surgery Society. Dr. Mahawar is also a keen researcher and has over 125 peer-reviewed publications to his credit. Dr. Mahawar is an Associate Editor of “Obesity Surgery” and “Clinical Obesity”. Dr. Mahawar has written two books on healthcare related issues published by reputed publishers.